IN VACATION.

Watchful Waiting.

"Johnnie!"

"Yes'm."

"Why are you sitting on that boy?"

"Why, I—"

"Did I not tell you always to count one hundred before you gave way to passion and struck another boy?"

"Yes'm, and I'm just sittin' on him so he'll be here when I'm done countin' one hundred."—Sacred Heart Review.

Going To Law.

When I have trouble, if you please,

I promptly go to law.

I pay a lawyer goodly fees

To wag his iaw.

My pocketbook looks rather flat,

I'm glad to get a draw;

But have the joy of knowing that

I went to law.

BOOK REVIEWS.

All book reviews are by the Editor-in-Chief unless otherwise expressly stated.

A Treatise on the Limitation of Actions at Law and in Equity.—By H. G. Wood, Author of "The Law of Nuisances," "Master and Servant," "Fire Insurance," "Landlord and Tenant," "Law of Railroads," etc. Third Edition, by John M. Gould Ph. D. Author of "Waters," Joint Author of "Gould & Tucker's Notes on the U. S. Statutes," Editor of Kent's Commentaries (14th Ed.) Etc. Fourth Edition, Revised and Enlarged, by DeWitt C. Moore, of the New York Bar; Author of "Carriers," and "Fraudulent Conveyances." In Two Volumes. Vol. I and Vol. II. Albany, N. Y., Matthew Bender & Company, Incorporated. 1916. Price $15.00.

Mr. Wood's work on Limitations has for a generation been considered the standard work and is almost universally quoted by the courts as an authority upon the important question of which it treats. We are quite surprised in reading the preface to this 4th edition to find that fifteen years have elapsed since the last edition of this work. It is needless to say that the adjudicated cases within fifteen years have not only brought numerous changes but many elucidations upon this subject and this edition has become a necessity. Mr. DeWitt C. Moore, who edits the present edition, has retained the learned illustrations of the author of the original treatise and the valuable note added to the 3rd edition, and has arranged
